Company Vehicle – Driver Policy

Mamo Building Services has a duty of care towards its employees and their safety. Safe driving is vital to those employees who drive on behalf of the company. At Mamo we are committed to providing a safe place and safe systems of work and to eliminate or at least try to minimise the risk wherever possible. The company also operates a single policy approach to driver support and control. It expects all employees who drive for the company to take ownership of the responsibilities involved.

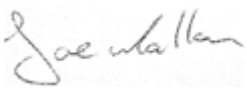

The importance of safe driving can be outlined using a few simple facts which can be found from the Health and Safety Executive:

- 45% of all road's incidents involve some form of human error
- In 76% of road incidents, the human is solely to blame,
- Most road incidents occur in built up areas and often within 2 miles of the start and finish point
- The most dangerous times on the road are weekdays during the rush hours between 7 and 9 am and between 3 and 6 pm
- Traffic incidents account for the largest single cause of death and injury for young adults

At Mamo we require all drivers to drive in accordance with the highway code, to obey traffic laws, maintain the vehicles and to drive in a courteous manner to make sure the safety of themselves and others. The vehicles should also be kept clean to portray a professional image. A monthly vehicle check must be completed and returned to the office.

The company also has a strict zero tolerances on the use of alcohol or drugs at work and this includes while driving for the company.

Mamo will also recognise that not all the drivers will necessarily need any form of training. However, in the interest of health and safety, and helping to reduce road safety risks the company will carry out a toolbox talk on safe driving awareness with the employees.
